I am working for the development of youth and children in North India. For many years I worked as a principal of different schools and as animator of different communities. My school had been an agent of change in the society. It has empowered thousands of boys and girls to lead a dignified life in the society as various government and private employees, doctors, engineers, housewives, etc. After my Coady training I am expected to be a dynamic development leader in my organization.

The main goal of our organization is the proclamation of the compassionate love of God for all especially for the poor, the exploited and the marginalized - and to build a just society in the world. In order to fulfill this goal according to the inspirations of our charismatic founder Rev. Fr. Antonius Pual Maria Bodewig, our organization takes up different kinds of work according to the needs of the people, like education, faith formation, social development, community colleges, health centres and school for the differently-able children. This goal motivates all the members to live our commitment with dedication and to serve the poor and needy without cast and creed.
