

“The Coady education and knowledge imparted to me will help enhance sustainable mechanisms to create awareness on land rights.”

Kalaba Taison

Coordinator

Mansa District Land Alliance, Zambia

As Coordinator, I work to lobby the government and other stakeholders to formulate land laws, policies and administrative systems that are inclusive of the poor. I conduct research and maintain records related to land laws, policy and practices, and relevant landmark events that have affected those pursuing equitable access to ownership of land. I also build and maintain networks and collaborate with community based organizations (CBOS), national, regional and international bodies in order to benefit from their resources, experience and expertise.

The Mansa District Land Alliance is a network of Civil Society Organizations that advocate for equitable land policies and laws that reflect the interests of all Zambians, especially the poor. The Alliance was established in 2006 in order to coordinate land related activities implemented by its members. The formation of The Mansa District Land Alliance was in line with the Zambia Land Alliance strategic plan to establish District Land Alliance.

COADY

INTERNATIONAL INSTITUTE
ST. FRANCIS XAVIER UNIVERSITY