

“I have come to Coady because I hear at Coady people are trained in asset-based community development (ABCD) as a development approach to community. I would like to know about this approach and how it can lead people to sustainable development.”

Ven. Josphat Mbea Nthiga

Director of Development and Social Services

Anglican Church of Kenya Diocese of Mbeere, Kenya

My focus in my organization is to improve social services and empower the communities of Mbeere to realize the vision of the organization, which is an “empowered and dignified community.”

I organize civic education on justice and peace, train community members on sustainable agriculture and livelihoods, empower communities through micro-finance programmes, and coordinate children’s home programmes.

The main goal of my organization is to empower the poor, marginalized and destitute communities of Mbeere to realize their potential and be in control of their own development in a holistic and sustainable way.

There is capacity development, internalization and ownership by stakeholders, internal resource mobilization and continual assessment of our capabilities and building on our strengths.

There is spiritual, physical, mental and social growth. The Christians and communities are able to build both primary and secondary schools for their children. All diocesan departments are well coordinated to give services to all people in the diocese.
