

I came to Coady to learn new skills and knowledge and also enhance my capacity to change the lives of people in our communities.

Yvette Sia Kamanda

Community Project Animator

Network Movement For Justice and Development, Sierra Leone

My role is to animate communities to have them think critically about issues that affect them and to find solutions. I facilitate monthly peace and human rights dialogue sessions. This helps people hold their leaders to account.

The main goal of my organization is empowering the people as well as strengthening their capacities to build a free, just and democratic society where there is respect for human rights and sustainable development for the benefit for all. It also facilitates the promotion of the collective strength of people, fosters justice and builds the capacity of civil society organizations. This promotes solidarity with all those struggling for empowerment, sustainable livelihoods and a free and democratic society.
