

I seek to gather synergies of multifaceted experiences, effective concepts of change, assess personal and organizational performance, self-engineering and maximize my capacity for exponential productivity.

Savannah Intercultural Mission, Zambia

My greatest pleasure in Savannah is to esteem and bow before our many young people who stand firm as leaders to make a positive difference in their lives and in the community. I am also deeply inspired to serve through motivational and life-elevating training, mentoring, life-coaching, counseling as well as outreaches to different communities.

Savannah Intercultural Mission was born in August 2003 to reach out to children, youths and families with motivation, education, survival and entrepreneurship support. Today we have over 3,000 members, mainly youths who actively participate in causing positive change in their communities through local initiatives and total reliance on internally mobilized resources. We are motivated by our aspirations, determination, faith, love, hard work and compassion amidst a myriad of challenges.
