

I came to Coady to acquire more knowledge on effective leadership so that I can go back to raise more effective youth leaders in my community who will make the world a better place for all to live.

Adegbola Abiodun

Regional programs coordinator

Junior Achievement Nigeria, Nigeria

I manage the activities of the program staff in the South-West, South-South, and the South-East regions of the country. I generate program reports for both Junior Achievement Nigeria and donors. I'm involved in stakeholder engagement with the recruitment, training and management of corporate volunteers. I also oversee the program staff in program implementation and staff appraisals.

Junior Achievement Nigeria started operations in 1999 with a vision of 'Young conscientious business leaders leading a vibrant economy', and a mission 'To inspire and educate young people to become conscientious business leaders'. We achieve this by implementing free economic education programs that develop attitudes and skills necessary for personal success and social responsibility. Our programs are built on three pillars for success: financial literacy, work readiness and entrepreneurship.
