

Take home the skills and techniques of action research in rights-based work for advocacy and change among the leaders of Indigenous communities for sustainable action, movement and development.

Clement Kujur

Director

Tribal Research and Training Centre, India

- Administration and monitoring
- Supervisory field visits
- Staff performance appraisals
- Conduct training program for capacity building
- Writing project proposals and progress reports
- Convergence of welfare activities with government agencies
- Networking and advocacy

Vision: A just, humane and loving society free from all forms of exploitations and discriminations where all people have a right to take decisions on matters affecting their lives and to take control of their resources.

Mission: Creating awareness among the Indigenous Peoples about their legal, constitutional and natural rights enabling them to assert their identity. Provide scientific situational analysis, initiate and support people's movements for their rights, and action research for change.

COADY

INTERNATIONAL INSTITUTE
ST. FRANCIS XAVIER UNIVERSITY

Diploma in Development Leadership Class of 2015