

I came to Coady to learn, unlearn, share and be inspired as a development practitioner since Coady is a centre of excellence where raw diamonds are refined and turned into polished diamonds.

Network Global Coordinator

Commonwealth Youth Human Rights and Democracy Network, Swaziland

We run online and classroom trainings on human rights at regional and international levels, and provide election observation opportunities to young people in the Commonwealth by joining the core Commonwealth Elections Observer teams. We link our network members with other organization doing similar work and identify growth opportunities for them while working in collaboration with other Commonwealth divisions and partners.

The Commonwealth Youth Human Rights and Democracy Network is a youth-led body under the Commonwealth Youth Affairs Division of the Commonwealth Secretariat in London, UK. Its mandate is to make human rights and democracy relevant to youth in the Commonwealth through advocacy, capacity building, research and by offering opportunities for election observation missions to young people in the Commonwealth.
