

Coady is an international institute whose mission is to build an individual's capacity. I came to Coady to be an effective, transformative leader, to empower my community around me, and to connect with inspirational leaders around the world and build alliances to help each other.

BRAC James P. Grant School of Public Health (JPGSPH), Bangladesh

BRAC James P. Grant School of Public Health is the premier higher education and research institute. The vision of the institute is to be the global public health leading institute for the world's critical health challenges affecting disadvantaged communities. I am working to conduct research on governance and an inclusive health system, universal health coverage and health financing mechanism at the national and community level.

BRAC James P. Grant School of Public Health was founded in 2004 in Dhaka, Bangladesh to address the unmet public health challenges particular to Asia, Africa and South America. The school draws from Bangladesh's remarkable public health achievements as well as BRAC Health's nationwide services and BRAC International's Health programmes in South Asia and Africa. This school offers unparalleled real-life, community-centric teaching, learning and research experiences on critical and emerging national and global public health challenges.
