

“I came to Coady to be inspired, get new perspectives, new knowledge and create connections for my personal growth and the future of ACTIVEH. I also wanted to take the time for personal reflection, and to consider my long-term and global objectives.”

Anne Martine Augustin

General coordinator

Action Toward Initiatives and Volunteering for Education in Haiti, Port-au-Prince, Haiti

As general coordinator, I collaborate with the steering committee to define the organization’s strategy. I also worked closely with our executive director. I am involved in annual planning, members’ activities, recruitment plan, budgeting and fundraising. I oversee the budget execution and participate in the elaboration of reports. I participate in the development and implementation of our student internship and volunteer programs and ensure that activities are in line with our vision.

We are a non-profit organization that harnesses the passion and potential of students as a force of change. We believe that youth passion and energy are catalysts for social transformation. Our first ever nation-wide internship and volunteering program in Haiti provides students with important workforce experience while creating solid bonds between the local/rural communities and the students.
