

“I am here to expand my insights on citizen-centered development approaches that boost socio-economic growth. I hope to examine and redefine my leadership journey and gain new networks for personal and professional growth.”

Bernadette Muyomi

County executive for Lands, Housing and Urban Development / Founder and CEO, Green Agri Ventures County Government of Busia and also Green Agri Ventures, Busia, Kenya

I am responsible for policy formulation, overall management and administration, planning, budgeting and promotion of efficient service delivery and serving as an adviser to the governor. This includes all matters aimed at promoting the overall management and improvement of governance and service delivery in the county.

In Green Agri Ventures, I oversee strategic planning and management, as well as building linkages and partnerships with other stakeholders.

The County Government of Busia is one of the 47 county governments in Kenya. It is entrusted with promoting good governance, enacting sound development policies and offering public services to the citizens of Busia in an efficient, transparent and accountable manner.

Green Agri Ventures is a social enterprise famously known as ‘The Green Bank’. It uses the microfinancing model to enable smallholder farmers to grow fruit trees and pool together raw materials for value-added cottage industries.
